

Dear Sir / Madam,

We are writing Re the sexual orientation regulations consultation, questions 12 and 13. We urge you to consider the need for religious groups / Christian Care Homes to uphold their beliefs. The proposed regulations undermine the whole basis of such homes.

Christians believe that sexual relationship is for married couples, as stated in the Bible. We believe it would be wrong to force Christian Care homes to close because they permit only married couples to share double rooms.

The proposed regulations will restrict religious freedom by imposing gay rights upon Christian homes and cause them great hardship.

Please consider this carefully.

Yours faithfully

George & Dorothy Ashcroft
